Adelaide Airport Limited announces new Director

Adelaide Airport Limited (AAL) today announced the appointment of Vivien Cheung as a new Board Director.

AAL Chair, Rob Chapman, said Ms Cheung would bring considerable knowledge to the Board through her experience with IFM Investors' Infrastructure team.

"Ms Cheung has developed a strong reputation for her aviation infrastructure asset management expertise," Mr Chapman said.

"Her asset management responsibilities have included energy and utility assets, toll roads and major capital city airports across Australia, including more than six years' experience managing IFM Investors' investment in Adelaide Airport.

"Ms Cheung brings strategic thinking, analytical decision making and a track record of industry advocacy to the role.

"Adelaide Airport is a proud South Australian business with a uniquely international customer base. We are delighted to welcome Ms Cheung to round out a strong and diverse Board of local and interstate directors."

Ms Cheung holds a Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Economics (finance and economics majors) at Monash University.
